Urhobo Language Today

Urhobo Language Today

As will be seen from the essays, the language is studied from different perspectives. Working from the premise that language is the most significant cultural symbol of a people's identity, the writers show concern about the state of the language "today"; hence more than two essays discussing the challenges of the language in a post-modern, post-colonial, and global setting. Since culture is dynamic and language evolves with the people's changing experience, the book aptly starts with the evolution of the Urhobo language. Several writers see the threat and challenges posed by modernity and urbanisation to the culture with the language.
